The developer preview of the next version of the popular Adobe Photoshop photo editor is out. Update 2019 is exciting for video editors in that it has a new, easier to use timeline. It also has a new feature that lets you trim video without having to reset the speed to 0. That's important if you're editing video on a device that doesn't provide a precision-tuning slider. The newly updated version 24 of Adobe Photoshop has a few new features. Some of them are: Improved Color Picker, improved Brush, New Layer Composition, Copy Graphics, Noise Reduc, two new scripts, and new Flash filter. There are some limitations we have from Lightroom CC like not able to organize our projects, not having proper import of projects and images for the @Flat, including or excluding rows and columns, or set the visibility of artwork items in the inspector, among many others. But the program is still a valuable tool for post-production and most of all, it's a tool that deserves to be first every time. Above: The new toolset for bringing to the surface targeted faces will be available in PhotoMatch. Once found, the software locates and outlines relevant characteristics. Below: Adobe's Face Optimizer can get rid of unwanted wrinkles. June 26 was the destination of a special cruise. New faces added to the software, together with the new creatives that came to Photoshop, we came to share some development news. Almost 3 months of hard work and looking forward to the results of the agile experimentation period, about two dozen of the new and old faces as well as about 40 prototypes. We are still in close contact with our clients and this will remain essential. [The number of users in Creative Cloud is seven million.]

Overall, Photoshop has made significant improvements to its ability to take pictures and edit images, and it's one of our favorite photo editors. But it still has some time to fully catch up with the competition. With the new features mentioned above, adobe has made important changes to bring Photoshop features to the web. It's clear from using the new UI, that web-based editors like this try to do a bit more than desktop editing apps, and try to provide a full-featured editing experience. "As we build the future of editing, we set the bar high for what sets Photoshop apart from other tools and what excites our customers.", said Andrea Faville, director of Photoshop at Adobe. "Our goal with Photoshop on the Web is to enable you to work from a web browser, enriching your creative workflow with real-time collaboration and the ability to use Photoshop on any device. We're extending the best Photoshop features to Internet Explorer, Safari, Firefox, Android, and all other browsers. This is a big time for Photoshop: our mission is to enhance the creative process digitally on any device and surface."
